FUND MANAGER'S REVIEW

Market Review

Local government bonds generally trended lower in February with the 3-year MGS benchmark declining the most. On the economic front, export growth slowed further to 4.6% YoY for the month of December 2010. Industrial output also grew at a slower pace during the same period and posted a YoY growth rate of 4.2%. Meanwhile inflation edged higher to 2.4% in January 2011.

There was healthy demand for the new issuance of RM4.5 billion 3.5-year MGS, attracting a bid-to-cover ratio of 2.19 times with an average yield of 3.43%. The new RM3.5 billion 7.5-year GII was also well received, registering a bid-to-cover ratio of 2.42 times and drawing an average yield of 3.87%. The 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, and 20-year benchmark yields rose by 1 to 15 bps to 3.37%, 3.50%, 3.77%, 4.07% and 4.54% respectively. In addition, Bank Negara governor Tan Sri Dr Zeti Akhtar Aziz said the country would meet this year's gross domestic product growth target of between 5% and 6%.

Comments

We expect Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) to maintain the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) at 2.75% in their monetary policy meeting this month. We believe BNM is not too concerned with inflation at this juncture and may use other measures such as an increase in Statutory Reserve Requirements (SRR) for banks as one policy tool to control liquidity. However if the situation in the Middle East is prolonged, and results in an oil supply shock that leads to rising inflationary pressure, we expect BNM to start raising rates in the second half of 2011(2H11).

Despite the general pullback of foreign funds in the emerging equity space, the Malaysian bond market continues to see an increase in Bank Negara Bills and MGS foreign holdings in January by close to RM6 billion. With continued foreign inflows, further ringgit appreciation expected, and a benign inflation figure, we believe local sovereign yields will trade range bound and be supported from excessive yield rising.

As borrowing costs remain low in addition to upcoming mega projects emanating from the Economic Transformation Programme ("ETP") which require funding, we expect to see an active primary market in the short term. Due to ample liquidity in the market, we believe the new issuances will be easily absorbed and fairly well supported by market players hungry for bonds.

We continue to maintain our strategy with an overweight in the corporate debt segment and aim to switch to new issuances should primary yield pick-up prove attractive.

Based on the fund's portfolio returns as at March 15, 2011, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 8.8 and its Volatility Class (VC) is classified as "Low" (source: Lipper).
